MUST SUPPLY FOOD TO MANY FAMILIES

Associated Charities Has Record of 600 Homes to Which Baskets Must Be Sent.

"Before next Tuesday we must have $600, else all or part of 600 families for whom no provision has yet been made in the distribution of our Christmas baskets will be forced to do without. Will we get the money? I think so. Our needs are clearly shown. People can come and see for themselves that they are not exaggerated. Richmond has never failed to respond to the call, and I believe the funds will be given."

So said Dr. James Buchanan, secretary of the Associated Charities, as he sat in his office last night and looked over the list of families to which Christmas baskets will be supplied this year by some charitable organization or person. There are records of more than 1,000, and of these only 400 have been assigned where they will be provided for.

The tabulation of the reports was only completed last night, and Dr. Buchanan saw just what work was before the workers for the Associated Charities. The entire list of families in need of help is no larger than it ordinarily is. Those yet unprovided for form, however, a greater proportion of the whole than on the same date last year, for it seems that more difficulty has been experienced than ever before in getting families assigned.

The work of arranging for distributing Christmas baskets is systematically done. Every address is verified by a trained worker, and every name is recorded in a big book, together with that of the person who will undertake to provide for its bearer. The organization knows just where each and every basket is going and where it comes from.

It seems that the weather this year is bad for Christmas giving. If snow were on the ground, said Dr. Buchanan, the gifts to the Associated Charities would probably be three times what they are now, with the sun shining brightly every day. Suffering is not so apparent against the dingy gray of a winter's street as it is against a background of snow.

While the needs are large, and the time in which to meet them growing scant, Dr. Buchanan felt little anxiety, but that the contributions would be sufficient to do the necessary work. "If I don't get what I need, I'll spend it anyway, and get it later," he said.

He explained that the Christmas fund of the Associated Charities and the general fund from which daily needs are supplied are separate and distinct. Contributions for the general fund are sent to the treasurer. When intended for the Christmas fund, money should be mailed direct to Dr. James Buchanan, at the Associated Charities Building.

MAN AND HIS WIFE SHOT.

Merchant to Whom They Owed Account Accused of Shooting.

Asheville, N. C., December 21.—Mr. and Mrs. George Carver, of West Asheville, are at a local hospital in a dangerous condition, as a result of bullet wounds alleged to have been inflicted by W. H. Hughes, a merchant of this city, who is in jail, having been arrested this morning immediately following the shooting. The man was shot in the arm, thigh and side. His wife was wounded in the neck. The trouble is said to have arisen over the failure of Carver to pay a bill he owed the merchant, the latter calling at the home of the injured man to bring about a settlement. According to the statement of Carver, the prisoner began to shoot when he learned that the injured man was unable to pay the bill. Mrs. Carver being shot in an effort to protect her husband. Hughes refuses to talk.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Asheville, N. C., December 21.—Mrs. Mary Carver, of Richmond, has purchased from Dr. George Douglas Miller, of New York, the holdings of the latter in this county, including the Mountain Meadows Inn and the tract of land which surrounds it, approximately 1,000 acres. The price paid for the property is not known, nor has it been announced whether or not the hotel on the property will be kept open during the winter months.

Dr. Miller has spent a great deal of time here within the past several years, and the fact that he has disposed of his holdings will be learned of with surprise here.
